FAITHFUL TIGE AND HIS GOOD FRIEND

THE NEW HEARST BUILDING

San Francisco
California.

*The Tallest Building in the West.
Fireproof and Earthquake-proof.
An Adaptation of California Mission
Architecture. The New Home of the San Francisco "Examiner"*

THE new Hearst Building in San Francisco will rise as a monument to testify to the complete and splendid recovery from the misfortune of 1906. But, aside from the fact that San Francisco is now a greater, wealthier and more thoroughly modern and progressive city than it was before, the new Hearst Building is in itself of peculiar interest.

While many "fireproof" modern buildings have burned with little resistance, the Hearst Building is to be absolutely proof against fire. Kirby, Felt & Green, of New York, the architects, have worked out the details of the earthquake proof and fireproof construction with ingenious skill, and the plans have been studied with much interest by architects and engineers both here and in Europe.

The new Hearst Building will be the tallest building in the West, and at the same time perhaps the most attractive in its commanding beauty. The architects have succeeded in applying the old California Mission style of architecture to the modern, imperishable skyscraper—a most appropriate, but most difficult, achievement. The new home of the San Francisco Examiner will be the most attractive new landmark in the city.

There is only one way to make a building fireproof, and that is to leave out of its construction anything that can be made to burn. Wood, impregnated with chemicals or protected by plaster, cement and sheeting, has been called "fireproof," and it is—against little fires, such as the burning of a waste basket or a curtain. But when there is a roaring fire in the building next door it has been found that wood, regardless of impregnation and protection, usually burns, and, like coal, though hard to start, burns all the hotter.

In the planning of the Hearst Building no pains have been spared in excluding wood and substituting unburnable material.

Steel studs and wire lath are plastered on both sides and used for the partitions. The steel studs make the partitions proof against cracking in case of earthquakes, and wire and plaster are not only fireproof, but fire resisting, and act as a sort of fire armor, refusing themselves to burn or to let fire get past them. The ceilings, besides being fireproof, are constructed, as if for the masts of a ship, to withstand shocks and twisting strains.

To insure rigidity steel girders are placed to strengthen the building laterally. The slightest tendency to twist and let one part move slower or faster than the other will die in the grip of steel.

The basement will be completely occupied by the Examiner's new pressroom, resting on a bed of sand to absorb all vibration, so that no rumble or jar may get to the floors above. Stoves and the business offices of the Examiner will fill the street floor, and the paper will also need considerable room on the floors above.

The new building is being erected on the site of the old one, at the corner of Market and Third streets. Its extreme length and breadth are 100 feet by 97 feet 6 inches. Every comfort and convenience which modern construction of office buildings has evolved is incorporated in the structure.

The elevators are in the centre, convenient to everything, and occupying what would be the least desirable space for offices. Electric power is used throughout, from the motors that turn the presses to the pumps that fill the great tanks resting on the roof. These pumps will continually lift the water from the city's mains, but if these should fail at any time the mere opening of a valve will connect them with an artesian well driven by the building.

The roof will be covered in heavy copper tiles, and in the belfry will hang a chime of copper bells, just above the illuminated clock, which will tell the time to the four points of the compass night and day.

A RAILWAY has been built which now runs from Mecca and after a short distance reaches the health of the whole world. It is the new Holy Railway, built for the benefit of the Mohammedan pilgrims who annually make the pilgrimage to Mecca and Medina, the sacred cities of their faith.

The railway is a direct line from Mecca to the East, passing through the plague-spot of Turkey, and making a short cut to the Cholera Infested Plague-spot of Turkey and Escapes All the Quarantine Barriers.

SPLITTING THE ROCK

The Seed of the Tree, or of Thought, Can Do It. And That Is Humanity's Hope

YOU have heard, perhaps, of the famous Split Rock in New England. A seed dropped into a crevice in a great rock, a seed very small and weak, that seed grew, finding strength that it needed within the rock itself. As it grew it split the rock, making room for roots and trunk. And above the Split Rock the branches of the tree grew flourish and the tree is beautiful.

In the upper left-hand corner of the picture on this page there is a smaller picture of that rock and tree as they actually stand to-day.

In writing to you we have in mind another picture, another rock and another seed. And these we show in the picture that takes the place of our usual Sunday cartoon. The rock, powerful and seemingly invincible, is made up of ignorance, cruelty, fear, superstition, oppression, avarice, selfishness—all the other savage, animal, primitive, abnormal qualities of the race. That is the rock against which real civilization has had to fight from the beginning. It is the rock that the soul of man fights to-day. It is a long, slow, BUT ENCOURAGING FIGHT. And the picture on this page illustrates beautifully the most encouraging, hope-inspiring thought upon which the human mind can dwell.

Humanity has not yet realized even the partial development shown in the picture. It is a picture more of the future than of to-day. Yet it is a picture of truth; it shows the future as it will be.

The seed that will split and conquer the barbarous rock is the seed of HUMAN THOUGHT, GOODNESS, ASPIRATION AND BROTHERLY LOVE. It was a desperate struggle in the beginning, when low-browed, savage, ignorant men fought against pitiless, overwhelming nature. But then the seed was there. It had to struggle for life, but it did live. It lived in the cave that savage mothers gave to their children, making each generation a little gentler by the gentle influences showered upon the child. If a man had lived a thousand years he would have ended his days faintly instinct, in the willingness of the man to sacrifice himself for weak or creatures dependent on him.

A thousand years have been but as a day in the slow splitting of that rock. Imperceptibly so slow that no change could be seen from year to year, and little from century to century. The great weights have been pressed apart and the tree of Human Happiness has gradually gained strength, holding its own with difficulty sometimes, at others growing with surprising rapidity for a little while, only to die out again with the winter's frosts of reaction and human indifference.

The man who can see in his mind the past of our race, its wonderful accomplishments, can look forward with hope and confidence to the wonderful future which this picture portrays. Up from the depths humanity has struggled, it is still struggling. Above us and before us there is sunshine—the pure air of Brotherhood and of real happiness, waiting only for us to reach it. For years to come, for centuries, perhaps, humanity must struggle on toward the light of truth, the beautiful sunlight of justice, kindness, friendship and unselfishness. Not forever will a few men live in extravagant luxury while millions live in want and anxiety. Not forever will this race struggle through years of disappointed youth and years of dull age, waiting for release from a life of which every hour should be an hour of happiness.

We have had given to us by divine kindness and wisdom everything that we need to create on this earth the kingdom of happiness for men. It is a beautiful earth, responding so willingly to man's intelligent care, giving him everything, that he needs, carrying him in absolute safety, with MENT. He possesses the earth and a knowledge of the universe. He has conquered all the earth—the water and the air. WHEN THE RIVAL, HAVE CONQUERED HIMSELF, he will be the possessor here of a material kingdom of happiness, he will be part of a race that is really happy, from which it is not yet understood suffering shall have been banished. And he will begin then his great work, THE STUDY OF THE INFINITE. By study of the cosmos with reverence and by understanding of the divine justice that governs it he will fit himself, perhaps, for a higher part in cosmic existence, for nobler activities in a greater sphere when the little earth shall have run its course and crumbled back to dust, and when the genius, THE SOUL of man shall be released and begin elsewhere, with renewed struggles and renewed achievements, eternal life evolution and struggle on a higher plane.

MAN CAN DO WHAT HE WILL, WITHIN HIS LIMITS OF DEVELOPMENT.

FROM ACROSS THE FOOTLIGHTS

HAVE spoken a number of times about the young actresses who have risen to well-deserved fame after playing at the various stock houses here—Frances Starr, Mary Hall, etc. Now, I simply wish to say—such is the future career of Effie Lashoe, who has returned to the Castle Square Theatre. Miss Lashoe played there for two seasons a short time ago and made many friends because of her delightful personality, the way that she put into her work and her unusual talents for ingenuita. She was born in Milwaukee a very few years ago, was educated there, and went on the stage in her home town. She played there three weeks with the T. J. Lashoe stock company there, her first part being the role of a maid in "The House of a Thousand Rooms," where she had nine lines to speak. Then she went to New York City, and then to the Empire stock company at Columbus, O. From there she came to the Castle Square Theatre here, and later went to the Castle Square. She made genuine success in "The Light That Failed," as Bessie Brook, "Call it as You Like It," "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," "A Part Most Ingenious," and "The Light That Failed." Last week she played "The Light That Failed" and "The Light That Failed." This play she played with the Royal Alexander players at Toronto, with Mr. Miller, and played Lady Teal with a break, and only one day's study of the part. She is ambitious, and if she had heart from the top before many years, into a poor quarter.

Lindsay Morison, manager of the Boston, never realized that he had so many friends (1) until he undertook to manage a week of grand opera. Now business men have never before stop him on the street and on the part of friendship try to "work" him for a couple of seats for the opera. Such is the case.

It costs money to play a character part, as William C. Mason at the Castle Square Theatre has discovered. Mr. Mason hasn't played the role of Mike James in "A Temperance Town" for ten years, and all his costumes for that part have disappeared. He has grown stout, so none of his old costumes will fit him. Now, when he wants to play Mike at the Castle Square Theatre, he has to go to a tailor and have a new suit made for him. They say the only one he had that would fit him. So, this week when you see this play, take a look at Mike's expensive trousers.

Plays and musical comedies are sometimes renamed, and then become "successes." I am going to suggest to Eddie Gray that he rename "The Lemon" and call it "The Lemon." It would be much more appropriate.

At my request Miss Janis added to her impersonations one night this week that of the aged Italian who tells the pathetic story of his home. I am not ashamed of the fact that my eyes filled with tears as the drama recited, and that I applauded him an encore at the end of the scene. Miss Janis has improved and developed wonderfully in the year since she was last here, and in this delightful heart-interest recital shows another phase of her character—pathos. As a comedienne she is delightful, but I have seen several excellent comedienne who failed utterly to get into the mind of the character as she did that of the Italian. So, when we hear her emotion, so filled with pathos was her eyes and so perfect her characterization, that it gives ground for the hope that in a few years Miss Janis may develop into a strong emotional actress, and that the girls behind her on the stage will reap the fruits with this recital of the Italian's story.

"Bookless" amateur night presents new possibilities, for up to now the amateurs haven't had a chance. Manager Magee at the Grand Opera House is going to give them a real show with talents they may have. Who knows but the greatest comedian of the future may be saying his little pieces there some Friday night.

All is not love and roses behind the scenes of a stock house. No members of the profession work harder than stock actors. And it is good to find that the managers of stock companies appreciate their work. In the board the following letter, which I was handed "Thank You," and read: "Messrs. Miller and Caruthers wish to express their sincere appreciation of the excellent performance given by the members of this company last night. It was undoubtedly the best first night this theatre has seen in many years. It is the desire of the management that every member of the company should know that they are deeply grateful for the earnest effort made by all to have things right. Special credit is due to Mr. Mason for the smoothness of the performance. The spirit shown by every member of the company, from the least to the greatest, and the general enthusiasm for the sort of thing that appeals to success. Messrs. Miller and Caruthers thank you all."

PLAYS AT LOCAL THEATRES

With such headlines featured as Robert Elliott and company, Lily Lee, the English comedienne, the Electric Cigarette, one of the biggest musical comedies to be seen in the city, the bill this week, about the most interesting of the season. Robert Elliott will appear in a musical comedy, "The Man Who Sings," and Lily Lee will appear in a musical comedy, "The Man Who Sings." The musical comedy "The Man Who Sings" is a new production by the Orpheum Theatre. It is a musical comedy in three acts, and is a new production by the Orpheum Theatre. It is a musical comedy in three acts, and is a new production by the Orpheum Theatre.

Hollis Street Theatre
There is no question where Boston's capital is located. It is in the Hollis Street Theatre. "The Boys Brothers in Panama" is the best of all the plays that have been produced by the Hollis Street Theatre. TEDDY-B AND TEDDY-G; THE BEAR DETECTIVES

No. XVI. --The Finding of Little Boy Blue.

Verses by Seymour Eaton.

Drawings by C. H. Twelvetrees.

"TEDDY-B was to have ten minutes' start, That they should be a mile apart."

THIS is the story of Little Boy Blue,
And every word of the story's true.
The tale was told by TEDDY-B,
Who was in the field the things to see;
And TEDDY-G says the facts are right,
For he, himself, was in the fight,
And helped Boy Blue to blow his horn
To chase the cows from the field of corn;
And both the bears are sure 'twas they
Who saved the life of Boy Blue that day.

The bears had planned a country run

Through farmers' fields, where they took a peep
At cows and horses, pigs and sheep.
At a country school TEDDY-B was caught;
He was peeking in to see things taught;
When TEDDY-G came up behind
And said, "I guess I'll improve my mind."
They told the teacher just why they came,
And asked her to please decide their game.
She measured the route on a map to see,
Then decided in favor of TEDDY-G.
Hung on the wall was a great big slate,
For names of boys both bad and late;

"Please, teacher, come here," said TEDDY-B;
"This notice I want explained to me.
You know the lad? Did he run away?
Does he go to school? Is he fond of play?
How old is he? When was he seen?
His clothes are blue? Not red or green?"
"Your detective bears, all right," said she;
"If you find the lad you'll earn a fee.
His father has hunted high and low,
And where else to look he doesn't know.
The lad was sent early to-day.

"Through farmers' fields, where they took a peep
At cows and horses, pigs and sheep."

For exercise and a morning's fun,
TEDDY-B was to have ten minutes' start,
That they should be a mile apart;
Then TEDDY-G was to run his best,
Without a stop to eat or rest,
And if he caught TEDDY-B that day
Before they got five miles away
A prize he'd win—ten pennies bright,
To be paid by TEDDY-B that night,

They ran through wads and over hills,
By houses, barns, old sheds and mills,

"She measured the route on a map to see,
Then decided in favor of TEDDY-G."

For things they did or forgot to do,
For boys who always had gum to chew,
For boys who begged the school to play,
Whose parents sent them to school each day.
For names of boys whose sums were wrong.

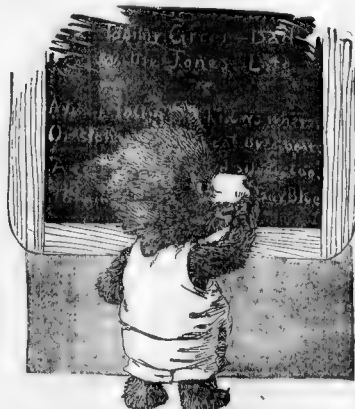

"You're detective bears, all right," said she;
"If you find the lad you'll earn a fee."

To chase some sheep from a stack of hay
And to drive two pigs and to blow his horn
If the cows got into a field of corn.
But that is the last of him they've seen
In fields of corn or meadows green."

TEDDY-G was excited from nose to paw
And said he was sure the boy he saw;
As he crossed a field he caught a view
Behind a hay-stack of something blue;
He was running fast to win the prize,
And didn't notice its shape or size.

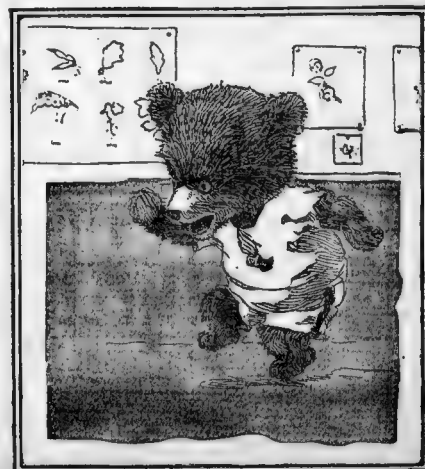

"At a country school TEDDY-B was caught;
He was peeking in to see things taught."

"Please, teacher, come here," said TEDDY-B;
"This notice I want explained to me."

Or who didn't stand when they heard the gong.
TEDDY-B delayed to read the news,
And to see if he should these boys excuse,
When down at the bottom four lines he read,
And this is what these four lines said:
"A boy is lost; no one knows where,
Or stolen perhaps, or eat by a bear;
A reward in gold and silver, too,
To him who finds lost little Boy Blue."

"TEDDY-G was excited from nose to paw
And said he was sure the boy he saw."

Enes Way Into Party.
Last Summer when the newspaper respondents were the guests of the J. town exposition the Barness and apparently well bred young woman succeeded in edging into one of the excursions to the Illinois State Fair. The young woman the Barness introduced to a group of people as her daughter. The respondents, however, knew the Barness for some years and they were said to be—
"Why, yes, she is? I have known her for some years, but this is the first I have seen her daughter."
The Barness smilingly and in no embarrassed, replied that the young woman was her daughter and that she was so fond of her (she also called her "daughter") that she had wanted to bring her to the exposition but the Barness had told all who would listen how she had been brought up and how she was of Illinois at the Illinois State Building before she had been picked off from the fair grounds by a man who had joined the party of newspaper reporters.

"Dear Governor Near-Sighted,"

When the Baroness was presented, she shook hands with her, said his name, gave him a kiss and went to another party on the boat. When spoken to about the apparent oversight of the Governor in not recognizing a house guest, the Baroness said she was not at all surprised, for the "other" was her real residence. No lady of the street, for the reason, and when asked about her position in society, she said she was a "daughter."

Asked about her son, Bohrer, she said she was proud of him, and that he was a young woman, and gave him time as well as managing the estates of his mother.

You know when you need Cascarets.

You feel a certain dullness, a depression—perhaps the proach of a headache.

You say, "I must take something tonight." But why do waste the day?

It is easy to keep at your best at all times, if you'll do
The way is to carry a box of Cascarets with you. Take just as soon as you need it.

Then the clouds rise at once.

The need for Cascarets is a natural need. Don't think that you're drugging yourself.

We must get a laxative some way. If we don't get it through exercise and through proper food, we must get it otherwise.

Cascarets are the next best way.

Ask your Doctor about it.
He will tell you that the day of the violent purgative is past. The of pills, salts, castor oil and cathartics.
This is the day of the gentle in medicine, the natural, the pleasant.
Cascara's act just as certain foods act—just as exercise acts—on bowels.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but not in bulk. Be sure to get the genuine, with CCC on every tablet. The price is 50 cents, 25 cents and 10¢ boxes.

Committee Makes Plans for Transfer of Museum Treasures to New Home.

The committee on subscribers of the Museum of Fine Arts, in Coppy square, made a tour of the museum yesterday afternoon in preparation for the removal of the art treasures into the new $1,500,000 museum now being built on Huntington avenue. The committee was conducted by the doctet, Louis Earle Rowe.

The committee consists of A. Shuman, chairman Elwyn G. Preston, Judge M. J. Murray, Andrew J. Webster, John B. Lawrence, T. B. Fitzpatrick and Bernard G. Rothwell, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. A. J. Simpson was killed on a road to the east by Mr. Joshua Reynolds of John Barker, which shows how the Japanese can carry out the details of a plan to kill a man. The road is between the bridge and Waterloo Bridge, by Claude Lorraine, which tell the story in patches of color. The Japanese are the only people in the world who have a collection of Japanese swords, the finest collection outside of the country. The Japanese are depicted in the entire book, and the largest rock crystal globe in the world, and the largest collection of Japanese swords and the finest collection of Japanese swords.

The council for the new building in the new building is signed by the city council in the month, and calls for the completion of the new building a year from this month.

According to agreement with the purchase of the new building and the purchase of the property must be in June of next year. The total estimated cost of the new building is $1,500,000. The cost of the old building and building, and what has been paid for the new building, is $1,500,000. In addition, there is still needed $250,000.

A definite plan by which it is hoped the city will be able to raise the money to pay the committee is trying to secure annual subscription of $10 or over. Each subscriber will be given a certificate to show the subscription.

The number of subscribers has increased the number of subscribers from 1,500 in 1908 to 1,700 in 1909.

not say that this is the same girl of whom the baroness has spoken quite frequently. Perhaps it is, the name sounds similar to the one referred to. Anyway, the baroness was introduced to a young, beautiful young American girl while in Paris several years ago. This girl, who is now married, claimed a distant relationship with the baroness through some old American friend, and she was now in the employ of the German legation in Washington as German attaché. He said he had never heard of her, but he was sure that she was not the same girl of whom the baroness had spoken so often in the past.

UPHOLDS TYPOGRAPHERS.

THE American yesterday received the following letter from Robert T. Niel, International president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Employes.

INTERNATIONAL BROTHERHOOD OF RAILROAD EMPLOYES, Boston, Mass., Feb. 29, 1908. I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your paper under date of February 24.

Speaking for myself, as chief executive of the organization, I wish to say that our sympathies have been with the American and the Typographical Union in the position of a manufacturer which employs the product, and it certainly has a right to fix its price.

Justice Must Cease. The same should be applied by the unions themselves inside their own organizations. The same should be applied by the unions themselves inside their own organizations. The same should be applied by the unions themselves inside their own organizations.

Forced Into Declaration by Inadvertently Praising Hughes and Taft.

PLAYS ROOSEVELT RULE.

His Stand Creates Furore Before Granite State Press Representatives.

ARRAIGNS CORRUPTION.

Laments Conduct of Great Corporations in Manipulating Reins of Government.

Special to the Boston American. BOSTON, March 1, N. H. Feb. 29.—William E. Chandler, former U. S. Senator from New Hampshire, and former secretary of the navy, to-day declared himself in favor of Senator Robert M. LaFollette, of Wisconsin, as the Republican candidate for President.

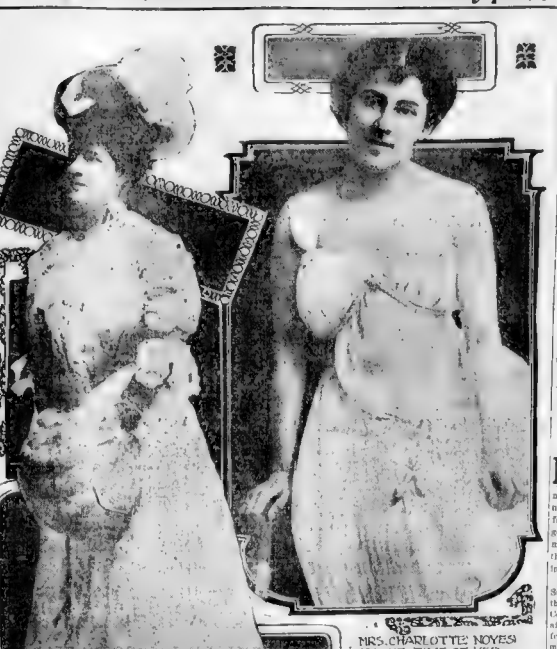

"I'm for LaFollette." It was while complimenting the Rev. Dr. Thomas Chandler, the son of the Senator, for driving the new tracks on New Hampshire that the Senator said he was for LaFollette. He said that he was for LaFollette because he was for LaFollette.

When Senator Chandler uttered his declaration, he was in the audience, seated, "that's the matter with Thomas Chandler," he said. "He is a man of the people. He is a man of the people. He is a man of the people."

Plays Corruption. Senator Chandler went on to say that if the condition was not abolished the government would be a failure. He said that the government would be a failure if the condition was not abolished.

RUMORS CAUSE UNION PACIFIC BREAK

By Thomas C. Shottwell.

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—All the old rumors ever against Union Pacific were brought into action today and the stock was broken more than 2 points. Not a new thing came into connection with the stock and inquiry at headquarters failed to disclose any official facts of any kind. Wall Street believes E. M. Harriman is gathering every dollar possible into the treasury of the Union Pacific and intends to have every share of stock and every bond possible before his conclusion with the Federal court comes to pass.

Announcement from Texas that receivership proceedings would be begun against the Texas and Pacific railroad, perhaps on Monday, caused a drop in the stock of that railroad and in Western Union. Missouri Pacific was not affected. By reason of the weakness in these few issues the whole market closed fairly active and heavy. In London there was also weakness due to the bad report for January made by the Grand Trust.

Directors of the American Smelting and Refining Company are expected to meet on Monday to act on the dividend. The Guaymas talk of a 4 per cent. rate, while others, who own more of the stock than the Guaymas, insist that the rate will be 6 per cent.

The copper was the most prominent in the action and the largest loss was in the stock of the American Smelting and Refining Company. The loss in the stock of the American Smelting and Refining Company was 2 points.

EVERYBODY WELCOMED IN NEXT WALK SAYS WESTON

"Get in Condition, Boys," Says Famous Leader,
"and Prepare to Climb Some Hills."

BY EDWARD PAYSON WESTON

To those Somerville boys who have already taken part in the walks of the W. E. B. DuBois Walking Club, I want to say that I am more than glad that the next march is to be through your beautiful city. I know something about Somerville, and the route arranged for next Wednesday afternoon. I believe to be one of the best I have ever traveled.

The streets are broad and keep in excellent condition. There is one commercial street, Broadway, leading to Boston and the nearby "spittles." They keep their streets in such repair that it is a pleasure to walk through them.

I cannot for the life of you see why you boys about Boston haven't walked more than you have been doing before the Weston boys came to you. You have been so tired places to visit, walks such as yours in your cities in the United States can't take unless they go long distances through places that are not fit for walking.

A. S. W.

Let All Boys Join the Parade.

Take Somervi for example. We go to the grand thoroughfare of Broadway over Winter Hill, one of the prettiest residential sections in the country, around Powder House square and park, from which can be obtained an excellent view of the Tufts college buildings, then through well kept College avenue, with pretty dwellings on either side, into Broad Davis square, Elm street for a short distance until we turn into Summer street, thence to Central street and on to Highland avenue. Central Hill

In this walk you will have to climb some hills. That is something that we haven't had to do yet. It will do us good. Hill climbing is a very important part of the walking game.

We should do the distance in a little more than an hour. If the weather is good, and let us hope that it will be, and the roads will be in fine condition for walking.

You'll meet all of you Somerville boys who have been with me before.

to turn out for the walk. I want any Somersville boy or man or girl or woman who wants to walk to get into line behind the band. Let us have a well organized parade, one that will make your fathers and your mothers watch you with pride.

Walking Whets Appetite.

When you get home from that walk you will have an appetite for supper that will make the folks at home think your health is something that needn't be worried about. After that walk you will also get into the habit of taking things on your own account. Do that by all it means. These walks which I have been conducting about Boston will be of no practical use unless they are kept up.

Get out and walk every day. Walk about four miles. This is the kind of weather in which you ought to walk. You will be surprised to find out how much your health is improved.

Take care of your feet also. After every walk bathe your feet in cold or tepid water. Dry them thoroughly, rub the toes hard with a rough towel. Then splash with your hands a little half diluted alcohol over the feet, letting it dry in.

Wear good stout shoes and warm clothing at this time of year. Keep your coat buttoned while you are walking, but be sure to have it buttoned tight when you stand still or are seated. For a few days after a cold or a fever I am sure that the boys and young men of Somerville will turn out in good, strong numbers next Wednesday.

Led Boys of New York

Yesterday I walked with a valiant crowd of boys in New York. They were enthusiastic and walked well. But I know that the boys of Boston and the boys of Somerville can do just as well, for I have seen samples of what they can do.

The walks in Providence, Salem, Lynn, Brockton and Worcester were all successful, even though it did pour while we walked through Wor-center city. In every place we were treated very kindly, especially by the police. One thing I want to do, and that is, extend my thanks to that capable police official, Sergeant Muldoon of Station 1, Providence, who, with his men, handled the great crowd in excellent fashion and preserved order on every hand. It was a difficult task and well performed.

McGUIRE STARTS SOUTH WITH RED SOX TOMORROW

President Taylor and Several "War Correspondents" Will Also Go Along With Boston Team.

By A. H. C. Mitchell. What are popularly known as "war's furnishing stores" did a bustling business yesterday afternoon in fitting out the manager of Red Sox ball players who leaves New York for Little Rock on Monday afternoon. Finally the last stocking was bought and the last button sewed on the uniform. The last truck was packed and everybody declared himself ready for the start.

At the last minute it was decided that Treasurer McGreen would not go to New York at midnight to assist in preparing for the departure of the Red Sox. The R. & O. railroad management promised to assign a man to take care of the trunk and baggage, and Mr. McGreen has therefore saved a trip to New York. The general manager's hand was very well placed in the job was taken off his hands. He has plenty of things to do in Boston while the players are away getting in condition and doesn't care to waste a day in New York.

Busy at Red Sox's Quarters.

At the club office there were busy scenes all day yesterday. President Taylor, who will pilot the team to Little Rock, had a million things to attend to, and he had to get the team into the train. Most of the men who make the start from Boston are on the way to the club hotel. The players will take their first practice, and by Monday they will be ready to rest up and favor their new music.

Every member of the team has except Jack Turner. President Taylor sent him a telegram yesterday, telling him to join the party at Cincinnati, and that if there was any trouble about the salary question he would make things straight out at Little Rock. Mr. Taylor has been all on the field at Little Rock, and he is all at Little Rock, and he is all at Little Rock.

Will Pick Up Unpleasant at Baltimore.

The delegation leaves New York at 5:30 p. m. At Baltimore, Md. tonight, the first baseman, will board the train, and at Cincinnati, which will be reached Tuesday afternoon, five or six more players will join the party. From Cincinnati the team will travel through Kentucky and Tennessee, finally reaching that wild ride from St. Louis to Little Rock experienced by the club last year.

The training quarters will be reached early Wednesday afternoon. On Thursday the players will take their first practice, and by Monday they will be ready to rest up and favor their new music.

Doey Wishes Americans Good Luck.

President Doey, of the Boston Nationals, called up to say goodbye and wish the Red Sox good luck. The Nationals will not get away for the training camp at Augusta, Ga., until March 12. There will be a few men not yet signed, but Mr. Doey is confident that Manager Kelley will round them all up before long.

Doey himself agreed to look after Dave Brain, and he thinks the third baseman will bring his contract with him, who he expects for the South. Kelley has Brown and McGinnis to round up, but all the other men that the club cares about are already under contract.

Neither Mr. Doey nor Joe Kelley are believers in the long training season, and that is the reason the club will start considerably later than some of the other clubs. Two weeks to get into training and two more to get into action are all ball players need to make the championship season the way the management of the Boston Nationals reasons things. Any longer time in preliminary work will do the club no good.

FAST DUSKIES MEET IN FEATURE ABOUT

Langford and Jeannette Should Make It Lively at Armory A. A. Tuesday.

There will be something doing at the Armory Athletic Association, Tuesday evening, when Sam Langford and Joe Jeannette face one another at catchboxing in a five-round bout that will go to a decision.

The rivalry between this pair has always been intense from the time that Langford was defeated by the big New Yorker, and the match promises to be the most interesting of the season.

Those who remember the vicious fight at the old Criterion Club, where Joe Jeannette was knocked out by the big New Yorker, will be sure to see a hard and exciting battle when they face a white man.

The result of the match Tuesday evening means everything to both Langford and Jeannette. Their whole future practically hangs on the result of the match, and consequently it is not too much to say that the fight will be a hard and exciting one.
